

Job Title

Men's 1st Team Coach for Oxford University Basketball Club

The Oxford University Men's Blues Basketball Team are seeking a committed and knowledgeable Head Coach to lead a competitive and motivated squad for the 2025/26 season and the near future.

Following a successful year — including a Varsity victory over Cambridge and wins at both the Les Parisiennes Tournament in Paris and the Town vs Gown game — the Blues are aiming for promotion as a goal for the upcoming season. With a strong core of players and a good mix of undergraduates and postgraduates students who will remain at the university for the next 2–3 years, this is an exciting opportunity to build a long-term project.

About the Role

The Blues compete in the British Universities and Colleges Sport (BUCS) league, with matches held on Wednesdays. The Head Coach will be expected to:

- Lead two to three training sessions per week.
- Attend all BUCS matches (home and away). All travel costs for away games will be reimbursed.^{[1][2]}_[SEP]
- Assist in player selection and trials from late September (Week 0 Michaelmas Term) onwards in collaboration with team Captains.^[1]_[SEP]
- The role offers a salary of £140 per week during term time in Michaelmas and Hilary Terms, as well as Week 0 of Michaelmas Term. For specific dates, see Oxford's term calendar: <https://www.ox.ac.uk/about/facts-and-figures/dates-of-term>

Coaches are required to hold at least a Level 1 coaching qualification and must have previous coaching or playing experience.

This is a unique chance to coach high-level student-athletes at one of the world's top universities and to join a close-knit and ambitious sporting community.

Please note: This is a self-employed, consultancy-based position. The University of Oxford will not sponsor or support visa applications for this role.
